Welcome to our Discover newsletter! For the rest of this year, our team will be releasing newsletters and texts covering a range of topics, including tips about the college application process, links for virtual events, and more throughout the rest of the year. If you would like to opt out of texts or the newsletter, please respond to the email. We hope you enjoy our newsletter!

Upcoming Virtual Events

SPANISH VIRTUAL INFORMATION SESSION

This information session will be led by a Scripps admission officer and current student in Spanish. Learn more about academics, campus life, and the admission/financial aid process. The session will last 45 minutes.

Sunday, August 16 3:00 pm PST

Register Here

PRE-MED AT A LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE

Wednesday, August 19 at 4:00 PM PST

Susie Fang
Pre-Health Professions Advisor

Register Here

Wonder how you can pursue pre-med or any pre-health field at a liberal arts college? Our Pre-Health Professions Advisor, Susie Fang will be presenting on the benefits of attending a liberal arts college while pursuing pre-med. Register at the link above.
Word/Phrase of the Week

Holistic Review

You might hear this phrase a lot during your college search, but what does it mean exactly? As an admission officer, when I say our office is committed to holistic admissions, I define it as reading an application cover to cover and that no one part of your application will weigh more than the other. We won't automatically admit or deny a student because of one specific section such as test scores or grades. It's great if you can do the work, but how will you be engaged in our community? We want to know about both your academic and community fit. You're more than your scores or co-curricular activities, your whole application gives us an insight into who you are, so don't be afraid to showcase that in your application!

Application Tips

College Search Tips

Aby Rivera '21

Watch Aby Rivera'21, Senior Summer Intern video on College Search Tips

follow us on social media!