

Fall 2016 Music Applied Lessons Auditions

Don't miss your opportunity to participate in private/group voice, keyboard and chamber music lessons. Sign up for an audition time prior to the first week of classes for fall 2016.

Sign up for an audition/interview time at any time of day at the Scripps College Performing Arts Center (by Garrison Theater, 241 E. 10th Street), where audition schedules are posted on the wall of the Music Library prior to the first week of classes.

At the audition, we ask students to sing or play at least one representative piece and tell us about their musical background, vocalists are asked to bring sheet music for the accompanist. Beginners are also welcome and will use their audition time for a brief interview. Lessons (in most cases) are one half hour per week and count as a half course credit (1.5 credit at Harvey Mudd).

Should you wish to practice before auditioning, come to the Music Office and ask about access to our practice room facilities.

Our voice and keyboard students perform regularly in Student Recitals, Senior and Junior Recitals, as soloists with the Claremont Concert Orchestra, in special faculty/student programs, and in a host of other venues. We are a very active music-making place!

CHAMBER MUSIC (MUS 172), VIOLIN (MUS 177) PAC studio 209

An audition for orchestra will serve as an audition for chamber music and/or violin lessons as well. N.B. Students in the violin studio are required to participate in an ensemble; therefore separate violin audition times are not scheduled. Your orchestra or chamber music audition will suffice.

Chamber music only: Students wishing to audition for chamber music only should sign up for a slot specified for only that purpose.
