Refund Policy
If a student withdraws from the College during the semester, the student may be eligible for a tuition refund based on a schedule outlined in the Scripps College Academic Catalog. Financial aid recipients who withdraw from the College prior to the midpoint of the academic term must complete an exit interview. Students who withdraw from classes prior to completing at least 60% of the payment period (semester) will have their federal aid reevaluated in accordance with federal regulations.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
Financial aid recipients are subject to the academic regulations outlined in the Scripps College Academic Catalog. Additionally, financial aid recipients must complete a minimum of sixty-seven percent of the courses they attempt on a cumulative basis and meet a 6.0 minimum cumulative GPA in order to progress toward the completion of their degree. Financial aid recipients must appeal in writing to the Office of Financial Aid if they fail to maintain SAP. Students who fail to maintain SAP Warning or may be placed on SAP Warning or may be ineligible without an approved, written SAP Appeal.

How We Determine Financial Aid Eligibility

Financial aid at Scripps College is designed to provide the minimum support necessary to make attendance feasible to a student and to provide sufficient assistance to enable them to enroll in the College and continue their studies. We are committed to offering financial aid to continuing students in the same manner, based on the College’s determination of their financial need in the previous academic year’s calculation of the cost of attendance for entering first-year students. We use the Federal methodology to determine the financial need of students in the same manner, based on the College’s determination of their financial need and each family’s particular circumstances.

The College is committed to providing admitted students with the financial support necessary for them to pursue their collegiate studies to the extent they are in need of such support. We achieve this goal by offering a wide range of financial aid options, including merit awards, institutional grants, need-based aid packages, and student employment opportunities. The College also provides students with information on how to find additional scholarship opportunities through community and private organizations.

Financial Aid Eligibility

Financial aid is determined based on income, assets, and student aid. Students are classified into one of the following groups: dependent, independent, and non-filing student. In each group, the amount of need is determined based on the income and assets of the student and the student’s family, as well as the student’s own financial resources and other financial aid the student is expected to receive.

Financial Need

Financial need is determined by subtracting the amount of self-help aid from the amount of cost of attendance. Self-help aid includes the student’s own resources, such as savings, scholarships, and employment earnings, as well as loans and other aid that the student is expected to receive.

Scripps College Grant

Scripps College Grant provides aid to students who are enrolled full-time and have demonstrated financial need.

Scholarships and Grants

Scholarships and grants are awarded to eligible students based on their academic merit, athletic ability, financial need, and other factors. They may be need-based or merit-based.

Merit-Based Scholarships

Merit-based scholarships are awarded to students based on their academic merit, athletic ability, or other factors. They may be need-based or merit-based.
