Lara Tiedens

Ninth President of Scripps College

Lara Tiedens was appointed the ninth president of Scripps College on June 21, 2016, by a unanimous vote of the College's Board of Trustees. As president, she holds the title of the W.M. Keck Presidential Chair, established in 1980.

Tiedens was a senior associate dean of academic affairs and faculty member of the Stanford University Graduate School of Business, where she oversaw educational technology, executive education, case writing, and faculty development for the finance and marketing areas of the Graduate School of Business. In prior years as an associate dean, she led the PhD program at Stanford Graduate School of Business as well as its Global Innovation Program. Previously, Tiedens was the Morgan Stanley Director of Stanford's Center for Leadership Development and Research, and she has served as an advisor for numerous Stanford leadership initiatives.

From 2008 to 2016, Tiedens served as the Jonathan B. Lovelace Professor of Organizational Behavior at Stanford Graduate School of Business. Her scholarship focused on the psychological roots of inequality and the role of emotions in organizational life. She has published widely on these topics, served as an associate editor of the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, and sat on several editorial boards.

Over the course of her career, Tiedens has also earned numerous awards and honors for teaching, research, and leadership. She was selected as a Society for Personality and Social Psychology Fellow for her longstanding contributions to the field and spent a year as a fellow at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences. Tiedens helped create a Research Fellows program at Stanford University that aims to increase the representation of women and minorities in the academy, she was the Stanford representative at the White House Convening on Expanding Opportunities for Women in Business, a member of the Stanford University Task Force on women and leadership, and served on the faculty advisory board of the Stanford Center for the Advancement of Women's Leadership.

Tiedens received her BA in psychology from Carleton College, graduating magna cum laude with membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi for distinction in her major and thesis. She obtained her MA and PhD in social psychology from the University of Michigan. Tiedens is married to Dale T. Miller, a professor of psychology and organizational behavior at the Stanford University Graduate School of Business.

Gaudeamus Igitur

Gaudeamus igitur juvenes dum sumus.
Gaudeamus igitur juvenes dum sumus.
Post jucundam juventutem, Post molestant senectutem.
Nos habebit humus, Nos habebit humus.

Let us rejoice therefore while we are young.
Let us rejoice therefore while we are young.
After a pleasing youth, after a troublesome old age.
The ground will hold us, the ground will hold us.

Alma Mater floreat, Quae nos educavit,
Alma Mater floreat, Quae nos educavit,
Caros et commilitones, Dissitas in regiones,
Sparsos congregavit, Sparsos congregavit.

May our Alma Mater flourish—it educated us.
May our Alma Mater flourish—it educated us.
Dear comrades, and although we are
Scattered into wide-flung regions,
It brought us together, it brought us together.

Thy Many Gifts

Strong in the strength of all, venturing together,
Searching, exploring the life of the mind.
Cloudless and blue above, or somber the weather,
Day follows day, all things good well-combined.
May life be free and full, life be unencumbered,
Vision and growth through the years may it hold.
Thy many gifts to us, thy benefits unnumbered
May we return, Alma Mater, threefold.

—Words and music by Isabel Fothergill Smith
