

Registration (9:15-9:45 AM)

Vita Nova Courtyard

Keynote Address (10:00-11:00 AM)

Kristen R. Monroe – “Moral Choice in an Age of Terror and Genocide”

Oral Presentation Session 1 (11:15 AM – 12:00 PM)

Blake Bennett (Claremont McKenna College) - “Virtual Into Verisimilitude: Videogames’ Ability to Induce Empathy”

Greg Zahner (Claremont McKenna College) – “Mood and Perceived Fairness: The Context Dependency of Empathy”

Lunch (12:00-12:45 PM)

Vita Nova Courtyard

Poster Presentations (12:45-1:30 PM)

Adult Development Project Lab Group: Emery Hilles, Shalina Omar, Brandi Seaman, Sarah Stringer, & Gillian Varney (Scripps College) - “Title”

Christina Boardman (Scripps College) – “Navigating the diverse dimensions of stereotypes, with domain specific deficits: Processes of trait judgments about individuals with disabilities”

Marissa Enfield (Scripps College) - “Title”

Allison Midden (Scripps College) - “Memory vantage point and visual imagery: Effects on recall in younger and older adults”

Leah Nunke (Scripps College) – “Mindfulness and concern for the poor: The roles of empathic concern and emotion regulation”

Kate Pluth (Scripps College) – “Alexithymia, Emotional Intelligence, and Their Relation to Word Usage in Expressive Writing”

Ian Schoen (Pitzer College) – “Effects of Method and Context of Note-taking on Memory: Handwriting versus Typing in Lecture and Textbook-Reading Contexts”

Jennifer Somers (Pomona College) – “Psychological distancing as moderator of treatment outcomes among substance-using mothers: Results from a randomized clinical pilot”

Jessica Stern (Pomona College) - “Title”

Oral Presentation Session 2 (1:45-2:45 PM)

Francesca Kazerooni (Claremont McKenna College) – “Did you get it?” - The Effects of Understanding (or Not Understanding) a Satirical Piece of Humor”

Kevin Macpherson (Claremont McKenna College) – “Using Video Modeling to Teach Children with Autism to give Verbal Comments and Gesture Appropriately During Competitive Play”

Dean Pospisil (Pitzer College) – “Visual Linguistic Cues in the Pitch Domain”

Oral Presentation Session 3 (2:50-3:45 PM)

Natasha Haradhvala (Pomona College)– “Disordered Eating: Behavioral Functions and Clinical Correlates”

Melissa Mesinas (Scripps College) - “Title”

Amina Y. Simmons (Pomona College) – “More Like Them & Less Like Us: Stressors and Cultural Maintenance Coping Strategies of Black Students at Predominantly White Institutions”

Concluding Remarks (3:45-4:00 PM)

Allison Midden and Sarah Stringer, Scripps Psi Chi Co-Presidents