Events

All times listed are PDT

Senior Art Show Virtual Tour

Tuesday, June 30 (1-2 pm)

Faculty: T. Kim-Trang Tran, Professor of Art

As with most, if not all, thesis exhibitions, the Scripps Senior Art Show went online this spring, and our seniors chose to create a virtual 3-D interactive gallery for their work instead of a conventional website. Virtually step into the gallery with Professor Tran for a guided tour of the Scripps students' phenomenal work.

Speak Taiwanese with Professor Ou

Wednesday, July 1 (2-3 pm)

Faculty: Winston Ou, Associate Professor of Mathematics and Elizabeth Hubert Malott Endowed Chair for the Core Curriculum in Interdisciplinary Humanities

Do you speak Taiwanese (i.e., the variant of the Southern Min language spoken on Taiwan) or would you like to learn? Come practice this beautiful, complex, ancient language with Professor Ou.

Brief bio: Born in North Carolina, Professor Ou grew up in a Taiwanese and English linguistic environment. Confused, he did not speak English until past the age of two and did not attempt to speak Taiwanese until attending college, where he and friends ran the Taiwanese American Student Association. He currently facilitates the weekly Taiwanese Table at Pomona's Oldenborg Language Center and is proud to have received the Scripps "Professor of the Year Award" in 2010, and a compliment, "your Taiwanese is not bad," from his father in 2020.

Community Building Language Table with Professor Forlino

Wednesday, July 1 (11 am-12 pm)

Faculty: Marino Forlino, Assistant Professor of Italian

Interested in continuing or beginning your study of Italian or other languages? Meet Professor Forlino and other incoming students who share a passion for languages! This virtual Italian language table seeks to build a community of people who have a similar passion for languages. This session is appropriate for all who are interested in studying Italian (or other languages) in the fall.
